Hi Steve,

Yes, but please look at the proposed form changes, which are posted.

Best,

Sara

Hi Sara,

Thanks for the quick reply and for attaching the complete notice from the Federal Register. That last page was exactly what I was looking for.

So in a nutshell, EIA really isn't making wholesale changes to the surveys—just pretty much adding battery storage questions where applicable? Does that sound about right?

Thanks,
Steve

Hi Steve,

The changes are posted at the link included in the e-mail (the proposed forms and instructions). I will update the FRN on the webpage now (attached) as I see a page got cut off somehow.

Thank you for pointing this out,

Sara

Subject: [EXTERNAL] Proposed Changes to the Electric Power & Renewable Electricity Surveys

Hi Sara,

I just received noticed about the EIA information collection and Federal Register notice regarding proposed changes to nine electric power surveys.

Is there a way to find out what the proposed changes are? I looked at the Federal Register notice but I didn't see the specific proposed changes as it looks like the document is cut short and might be missing some pages.

Thanks,
