I am writing to request that the IRS not give any preferential consideration to charitable organizations based on religion. It is becoming increasingly noticeable that religious groups are encroaching on secular issues. Churches are involving their organizations in politics and government. Recent issues make us aware that many , many people do not understand the concept of "separation of church and state" . I believe this misunderstanding is made worse by offering religious organizations preferred or special treatment.
At the very least, religious groups should have to file every year for their exemption.
Thank you
