if these people are kept here for a while to testify in a case, they should be deported after that. i see no reason at all for anybody involved in these criminal schemes to be allowed to stay in america. far too many of those who claim they were forced to participate in fact were willing participants to participate in the3 criminal schemes. we dont want any partof them staying here. deport them at close of case, no matter what the circumstances. they are affiliated with criminal acitvitieis. that is enough to not want them to be here. we have enough crime here. we dont need to import any more from foreignlands.
