Complete your Marketplace application.

We sent your information to the Marketplace. They will start an application for you. They will send you a letter asking for more information to complete your application. They will see if you qualify for health coverage – and help paying for it – through the Marketplace.

If you do not want to wait for the letter, you can start a new application now at Healthcare.gov. You will need to:

- Create a Marketplace user account if you don't have one
- Re-enter the information you gave us already
- Have your eligibility letter with you to answer questions
- Answer "yes" when asked if anyone has been found not eligible for Medicaid in the past 90 days

After you complete your application, the Marketplace will tell you whether you can get coverage now or have to wait. Most people can only get coverage during a specific time of the year called the Open Enrollment Period. But some people may get coverage now if they had certain life changes such as getting married, having a baby or losing Medicaid or other health coverage. This is called a Special Enrollment Period.

Questions? Call the Marketplace at 1-800-318-2596 (TTY: 1-855-889-4325).
