Hello,

It has become clear to small businesses all over the USA that I work with that the Large Civil Aircraft Dispute has damaged business for them. It makes business impossible to conduct in some cases because their model is to import wines from Europe.

Especially in these challenging economic times, it has never been more important to remove these tariffs so they stop damaging the small businesses like mine and those that I work with.

Please consider this damage when thinking about the Large Civil Aircraft Dispute.

Thank you for your consideration,
Luen
