Comment

Form I-130A represents an unnecessary increased burden in cases where form I-485 is being concurrently submitted. No information collected on form I-130A is omitted from form I-485 and consequently, requiring the addendum form when the information is already being collected is duplicative and a waste of respondent's time. Respondents currently filing both forms I-130A and I-485 should be excused from the former.
