As a co-founder of a startup developing tools for researchers and pharmaceutical companies to invent new medicines, we have solicited great advice and guidance from our local SBDC. They've provided fantastic knowledge and expertise to guide us, while making it clear that all of our information would remain confidential, which is critical for us in a field which has required great efforts and investment. The fewer people that have access to this information the better, especially as that information "creeps" further and further into the SBA network to people that we'll never interface with. Therefore, we prefer that this form not allow for the larger SBA to access our confidential information.
