I enjoy a good working relationship with the SBDC. I don't want to be solicited by the SBA or its agents. This information collection is unnecessary. The SBA has no need for my contact information in order to do its job. My personal information is not a performance indicator.

How will the SBA protect my information to the extent permitted by law? Under the Small Business Act the SBDC is prohibited from sharing my information at all. It would be simpler to not collect my information, as set forth in the law.

- Who are the agents being referred to in this disclaimer and why do they need my personal business information?
- What purpose is served by soliciting a small business for other services, how is that an appropriate information collection?
- The information collection requires a small business to "waive all claims," why if they are protecting my information?
