Author Full Name :   Anonymous   Received Date :   12/15/2020 02:20 PM

Comments Received :

At first glance, it seems the new EIA PDF forms for the 2021 year do not have an edit field for data entry. The form itself has an area, but an editable PDF usually has areas that you can click on to type and add data too. Not having an editable field for data entry could pose a problem for ones that do not have PDF edit software. As it stands now, I will have to manually go into my PDF software and choose the edit option and then choose add text to add any sort of data and information.   It is also understood that this issue currently may not be a problem as an excel file may be released after the comment period and would correct this issue with data entry.