General Comment

has edward ragland hear there is a pandemic on and that we are required to wear masks and practice sodicl distancing and not have huge numbers of peopl ein the same place. that means agritourism is verboten under those practices. it is completely wasteful to spend american tax dollars on a directory whtat cannot be used for tourism. in case edward hasnt heard all toruism is way way down and to promote it means the govt directive on pandemics would be ignored. this is the wrong timeing exactly. in addition, many many farms are nothign but cesspool pits. when you have animal agribusiness of pigs, chickens, cows you have nothing but cesspools all around smellign up teh place. nobody wants to tour in such spots. when you drive through south and north carolina you can smell those pits from teh highways. th esmall is all around. no torist wants to go there. many farmers are touchy about people seeing the torturous wayus they keep their farm animals, which are treate din teh cruelest most horrendous ways and they may not want tourists to se how atrazine, glyphosate, and chlорpyhillis is poured on their plants, which then kill the tourists in a few years. it is kilnig their farm employees right now. see case in california wher farm is paying milliosn of dollars to a farm worker. onw ha s to wonder atabout these ideas cmoing out when the usa is in a differnet place in s2020 and will be in that place for the certainly foreseeable future. we may never get back to normal again if the presnet political climate has itw asy in turning us all into serfs afraid to come out of our homjes. the great reset. i am definiitely not in favor of this wasteful spendnig. its the wrong time. its the wrwrong amounn

of money. it shows no thinking at all. this agency gets an f minus for its work. it needs shut down. we need a new agency and usda to be shut into two parts. one part favoring their agribusinesses and anotehr party working for consumers who are being killed by farm practices, along with arm animals being killed.
