YOUTH/MINOR PARTICIPANT ASSENT FORM

Study Title: COVID-19 Public Education Campaign Market Research

Telephone: 571-858-3757 (24 hours)

What is the key information?

You and your parent or legal guardian are being asked to participate in a research study to collect information about your thoughts and behaviors related to COVID-19. This form describes the purpose, procedures, benefits, risks, and precautions of the information collection. It also describes your right to withdraw at any time. A member of the project team is available to read this form with you and discuss all the information if you wish.

This information collection is being done to help better inform researchers of the current public situation related to COVID-19.

What do I need to know about this study?

If you agree to be part of this study, then you will be asked to be interviewed with your parent or legal guardian. Your parent/legal guardian will be asked to give their permission for you to participate, and you will be asked to give your consent to participate. You and your parent/legal guardian will be asked to discuss your thoughts and behaviors related to COVID-19 and how it is affecting life in the United States today. The interview will last about 60 minutes and you will be audio and video recorded while you respond to questions. You do not have to answer any questions that you do not want to.

Other members of the project team and/or members of the sponsoring agency may watch the session remotely, but they will not interact with you or your parent/legal guardian. People from the project team will take notes and listen, but they will not interact with you or your parent/legal guardian. Only the interviewer will talk to you.

What are the potential risks of being in this study?

There are minimal risks associated with this study. There is a risk of breach of confidentiality. This risk is minimized by protections described in the "Who will see the results of this project or my information?" section below. Please help protect the privacy and confidentiality of others by not discussing anything from this session outside of the interview. If you share stories about others during the interview, please avoid using real names or other identifying information. The study staff will work to remove any personally identifiable information from the transcripts of the session.

Does participating in this project provide any benefits?

This study is for research purposes only. Although you and your parent/legal guardian may not directly benefit from participating in this study, other people may benefit because the findings of this study will be used to guide messaging and public education efforts about COVID-19.

Are there alternatives to participating?

This study is for research purposes only. The only alternative is to not participate in this study.

Will it cost me anything to participate in the project?

There are no costs to participate in the project. Parent/guardian participants in the interviews will receive $75 for their participation. Youth interview participants will receive $50 for their participation. You will be paid at the end of your participation in this study.

Do I have to be in this project?

Your participation is voluntary, which means you can stop or withdraw at any time. You may choose to not participate, or you may withdraw from the study for any reason. There are no penalties for refusing to participate or leaving the study early.

Your part in the research may stop at any time for any reason, such as if the sponsor decides to stop the study.

Who will see the results of this project or my information?

The study staff will hear everything you and your parent/legal guardian say during the interview. We will be careful to only let people working on the project see your information. There is a small risk that others might find out what you say, despite our best efforts. In the case of a breach of confidentiality, we will take steps to notify study participants.

We will audio and video record the interview, and we will transcribe it. The session may also be watched remotely by other members of the project team and/or members of the sponsoring agency. By signing this form, you consent to being audio and video recorded and observed during the interview.

Your name and other personal information (for example, contact information like a phone number and demographic information like gender and race/ethnicity) will not be connected to your responses, will not be shared with the sponsoring agency, and will not be given out for other research studies. This means that no one outside of the project team will be able to connect what you said back to you. The principal investigator, the sponsor or persons working on behalf of the sponsor, and the Institutional Review Board (IRB) will be able to view and copy confidential, study-related records that use your name. This means that we cannot guarantee total confidentiality. As much as the law allows us to, we will keep everything you share private. This means that we will not share any information you give us with anyone who is not working on this project—unless we are required to share that information to protect you or your parent/legal guardian or unless we are required by law. However, if you or your parent/legal guardian appear to be a direct threat to yourself or others, we have the right to take action out of concern for you, your parent/legal guardian, and others.

All the information we collect including anything you say in the interview, information collected during screening, and audio and video files will be stored on a password-protected computer and/or in locked cabinets that only the project team can access. We will collect some personal information from you, like your age and race, but we will not collect any information that could be used to identify you. After three years, we will destroy all the collected information by securely shredding documents or permanently deleting electronic information. Results from this project might appear in professional journals or scientific conferences and might be shared with other project teams. We will not identify any individual participants or link them to the results, and we will not disclose your identity in any report or presentation.
