Thank you for the opportunity to comment on the PPR and the burden it creates.

I have had the opportunity to read the comments from the Tennessee Council and would like to concur. In addition, I would like to point out that the burden is proportionally greater on minimum allotment councils as some only have a single staff that is responsible for all project management and reporting.

I would be happy to work with a group to develop a reporting system that meets the federal reporting mandate and truly captures the work we do while also reducing burden and being easy to understand for both the administration and the public.

Sincerely,
