[REDACTED]. I got review papers after filling some out back in June. When I got them it says I have until October 29th to have them to them. I've been dealing with new medical issues and my physician trying to get my referral [REDACTED] which got sent to the wrong place I still don't have that appointment was wanting to be accurate and have it on my paper work. Plus I hurt my [REDACTED] 4 weeks ago so don't know if I have [REDACTED] or what got my appointment for that not until the [REDACTED]. [REDACTED]. [REDACTED]. Filling things out especially when they state that if you don't have them back in you will be kicked off. That is nothing but stress. Bc if we leave something out or forget a medication or anything we fear we will be thrown off. We constantly have to jump through hoops proving we are still disabled. We live in a life of pain, discomfort, fear and so much more and less not forget poverty. Nobody wants to be disabled and no one wants to live way below the poverty line. But yet we do. And you think we can fill out multiple questions and give details to your liking and satisfaction while trying to take care of ourselves and our multiple health conditions, doctor's, specialist test and more new medications while normal day to day task adding to the stress if we will still be considered disabled to your decision of how we answered your questions. What none of you understand is how you make our conditions worse by stressing us out. We want to be normal but unfortunately we aren't.. [REDACTED - RE Ticket to Work]. I haven't gotten this larger set of papers filled out yet but I'm trying to and I will have them mailed in time for them to receive them. And then I will wait to see if you decide to take everything away like my ability to take care of my multiple health conditions.
