General Comment

FiCen I didn't see anywhere else to send you this communication through a government recognized channel, so I'm sending though here.

Until the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau has to answer to someone that will be pointless. The CFPB enabled & protected bad actors defrauding the United States. All the information the CFPB could control was covered up. Numbering system was changed. People that weren't going along with the cover up disappeared. The CFPB couldn't keep me from telling the world everything via the internet. The CFPB is a government agency that is helping bad actors steal & protect them when they do. That means that agency is working against you FiCen.
