In terms of requesting to avoid the covid 19 through standing of religion I see it as something that can be made up. It's likely that those who are against the covid 19 vaccine may be willing to convert to a specific religion whose beliefs cause them to be against the vaccination. That being said, people could very well get away with religion conversion and not even actively practice that religion just in order to avoid becoming vaccinated. In order to avoid this occurrence, it would be better to regulate those who use religion as their reason for not receiving the covid-19 vaccines. To ensure that people aren't only converting to not get the vaccine there should be rules implemented and requirements met. Overall, the information of vaccines is necessary for the government in order for them to control who is at risk, meaning they need to continue to collect data regarding the covid-19 vaccines.
