General Comment

I receive SSI. I feel the estimate of a CDR is incorrect. I'm always fearful of CDR coming in. When i get it, it can literally take me just mentally to process everything about the cdr a week because its so stressful. There's should also be notification in your SSA online inbox of if you are getting a CDR because many times you don't know if SSA sends one out and it ends up in a wrong mailbox or something with a SSA notification letting you know your getting one you can be more at ease
