General Comment

The fact that the SSA believes this process only takes a recipient one hour demonstrates how out of touch the SSA is with the burden it places on recipients. SSA needs to reflect on the feedback provided on this notice and adequately adjust their estimate on the time it takes for completion. Furthermore now that SSA has feedback that it takes much longer than an hour the SSA should change policy on the frequency of reviews and reduce them for cases where improvement is unlikely so that disabled recipients who are unlikely to improve are overburdened.
