I recommend we end cattle grazing on public lands and instead reintroduce Bison to their historical range. Cattle is bad for the range and compete with Elk and deer. Cattle have introduced invasive species such as cheat grass, snake weed, etc, which is bad for the range and contributes to wildfire hazard. The cattle industry will soon be replaced by lab grown meat anyway, so it is best to reintroduce native species including predators to the range.

In addition Americans are tired of subsidizing this industry with tax payer dollars, and having thieves like the Bundy's graze our land without paying their fees.
