As a citizen of the United States I am speaking out against this proposal to require Covid-19 vaccination for non- citizen travelers. Science is real; that means that we must acknowledge the negative reactions of the MRNA vaccine as well as the positive. For many people the MRNA vaccine has been equivalent to playing Russian Roulette. The United States, as a world leader and super power should set an example by not requiring visitors from other countries to take a medical risk. That is not what this great country was founded on. Our tenants preach freedom, opportunity, equality. We should continue the safety requirements that do work and don't incur medical risk; hand sanitizing and face masks covering the nose to the chin have been proven incredibly effective.
