To whom it may concern,

I have been trained for the Davis Bacon regulations for over 5 years now and I have noticed that the website where we could easily download the wage rates is now difficult to find, sometimes not available and now suggesting you log into your account. The old website was free of third-party signup terms, and you could gain access to the PW as quickly and effectively as possible. May I recommend streamlining the accessibility of this website will go a long way to help everyone.

Prevailing wages in the residential classification is in much need of an overhaul. There are trades on this PW that are missing, that do come up on repair jobs: Truck Driver, Laborer landscape, HVAC Mechanic (HVAC Duct Installation Only)

Thank You,

Nathan Bragg
