As a state coordinator, I have completed multiple surveys re: the distribution of ARP-HCY funds by SEA and why LEAs received funding, and what our SEA is using set aside funds for. Why can ED not use data compiled by School House Connections or other ED agencies to answer these questions? While understanding the utilization of funds is important, it feels like a waste of time having to complete multiple surveys asking for the same data. The APR-HCY funding has an expiration date that is quickly approaching. Efforts should be made to assist LEAs and SEAs in spending funding appropriately and ask questions about why and how it was spent after the expiration date.
