I live in Cameron Park, County of El Dorado, California. On December 31, 2022, while I was out of town my house suffered flood damage due to the unprecedent rainfall that caused a local creek to flood. My house was not zoned by FEMA to be included in a flood zone and therefore I was not required to have flood insurance. I am one of many individuals in this area of El Dorado County to suffer damage to their home. At this time, El Dorado County is not listed as a county to receive individual assistance to help with repairs. I am writing in hopes to have El Dorado County added as it was one of the first affected by the flooding. I am attaching a copy of a picture my neighbor took of my home before evacuation orders were issued.
