There isn't any questions about the children suffering from Long COVID, which would be important to know. Would just simply ask the same questions for children as the questions being asked of adults.

Would be important to know how many reinfections people/children have experienced.

More questions about seeking care/antiviral accessibility should be asked.

I hope this survey will be continued for years to come as we still do not know the extent of the damage--this survey could be one of the most important tools in doing so.

Thank you
