

Author Full Name : Jessica Craven

Received Date : 07/05/2023 01:39 PM

Comments Received :

We absolutely should have front-of-package labelling letting people know as clearly and simply as possible that foods high in salt, sugar, fat, or processing are BAD for them. Americans have terrible nutrition and it's killing them--and costing the country untold billions. Folks need help to understand what they're buying when they buy a food item. Do the clearest labels possible, please! And include processed foods!