

Author Full Name : Laurie McBride

Received Date : 07/07/2023 12:26 PM

Comments Received :

I am a mom with two teenagers living in Utah. Food packaging is currently too hard to understand. My teens think there is such a thing as healthy soda. Front of package labeling should be clear enough for a teen to see when the food on the shelf at the convenience store is mostly junk. Sensible 'stop sign' labels like they have in Chile would help my teens, and all young people, make better food choices.