Author Full Name :   Anonymous   Received Date :   11/24/2023 09:02 AM

Comments Received :

Page 2 describes software that require self-attestation. It only describes a one-time requirement. How long will the attestation be valid for? Will software developers be required to update per major version change? How will continuously changing software be attested to continuously practice secure software practices? There should be some guidelines for requiring updated attestations for each major version change OR every 36 months whichever occurs first.