I-130, Petition For Alien Relative			A citizen or lawful permanent resident of the United States may file Petition for Alien Relative (I-130), with U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) to establish the existence of a relationship to certain alien relatives who wish to immigrate to the United States. Filing the I-130 is only the first step in helping a relative immigrate to the United States. Eligible family members must wait until there is a visa number available before they can apply to become a lawful permanent resident. If, at that time, your relative is present in the United States, they can apply for lawful permanent resident status through a process called Adjustment of Status. However, if your relative is outside of the United States, they must complete consular processing with the U.S. Department of State at an embassy or consulate to first get an immigrant visa and travel to the United states to be admitted as a lawful permanent resident. Review the Petition for an Alien Relative (I-130) page for links to the paper form.				First link: https://www.uscis.gov/green-card/green-card-processes-and-procedures/adjustment-of-status Second link: https://www.uscis.gov/green-card/green-card-processes-and-procedures/consular-processing Third link: https://www.uscis.gov/i-130
