-131, Application For Fravel Document			• Advance Parole Document for Individuals Outside the United States: The granting of an Advance Parole Document for individuals outside the United States is an extraordinary measure used sparingly to allow an otherwise inadmissible alien to travel to the United States and to seek parole into the United States for a temporary period of time due to urgent humanitarian reasons or for significant public benefit (significant public benefit parole is typically limited to law enforcement or homeland security-related reasons). An Advance Parole Document cannot be used to circumvent normal visa-issuance procedures and is not a means to bypass delays in visa issuance.
					[Yellow alert:]  [Header] Only certain applicants may apply for a travel document online with USCIS at this time  [Body] You must submit a paper application if you are in one of the below groups:  • I am a permanent resident or conditional resident of the United States, and am applying for a Reentry Permit.  • I now hold U.S. refugee or asylee status, and I am applying for a Refugee Trade Document.  • I am a permanent resident as a direct result of refugee or asylee status, and am applying for a Refugee Travel Document.  • I am applying for a Refugee Travel Document to allow me to return to the United States after temporary foreign travel.  • Filipino WWII Veterans Parole (FWVP) Program.  If you are in one of these groups, do NOT file online; you must submit your application by mail. If we receive an online form and it is determined you are one of these groups, it may delay your case and/or we may reject your Form 131.	l avel
Before You Start Your Application	Eligibility		Each applicant must file a separate application for a travel document.  Note: Do not file Form I-131 if you are seeking release from immigration custody and you want to remain in the United States as a parolee. You should contact ICE about your request. 			If you or someone else is outside the United States and needs to visit the United States temporarily for an urgent humanitarian reason or for significant public benefit:  1. You may apply for an Advance Parole Document if you cannot obtain the necessary visa and any required waiver of inadmissibility or consent to reapply for admission. Under these conditions, an Advance Parole Document is granted on a case-by-case basis for a temporary period of time, according to any conditions that may be placed on parole.  2. An individual in the United States may file this application on your behalf. This individual must complete the form with information about himself or herself.  3. If you were paroled into the United States when you arrived with an Advanced Parole Document and need to remain in the United States beyond the authorized parole period to accomplish the purpose for which parole was approved, you must file a new Form I-131 with all supporting documentation to request reparole authorization.  An Advance Parole Document may also be granted to qualified individuals outside the United States as part of the Note: A derivative beneficiary can only receive benefits if the principal beneficiary receives benefits. A separate application and fee for each individual principal and derivative beneficiary is required. Applications for a principal beneficiary and any of his or her derivative beneficiaries must be submitted in one package when mailed to USCIS.
	Fee		Request for Fee Waiver, when filing Form I-131 to ensure such requests are supported in accordance with 8 CFR 103.7(c).	For specific information about fees applicable to this form, see Form G-1055.  Fee Waiver: If you are requesting a fee waiver, you cannot file online. You must file a paper version of both the Form I-912, Request for Fee Waiver and the form for the specific benefit you are requesting.
