General Comment

We cannot risk the recurrence of what we experienced in 2020. Beyond this, we as a society must set a standard for public health excellence and promote legislation that protects the health of the public. It is absolutely critical that we implement this project into our airlines. This form system is an easy way to track the spread of diseases both domestically and internationally and could prevent future mass spreads of diseases. I hope as a frequent flyer to also see the digitization of the Airline and Traveler Information Collection: Domestic Manifests and the Passenger Locator Form, as I could see passengers being unwilling to participate if it is not easily accessible on their technology. My only concern with this project is the unwillingness of passengers to participate in this, so I would like to see more information about how this would be implemented and enforced. I applaud the CDC for implementing public health safeguards and hope to see more that address different issues.
