I'm a part time worker, part time college student and on disability. I don't get much of a benefit because I'm making enough money with part time work. My hours fluctuate frequently and some weeks I only work 10-ish hours due to cutting labor hours and if I'm unable to go to work due to disability. I'm just recently got my benefits reinstated for a small amount of snap benefits but it's a small help but not enough.
