

Author Full Name : Jeffrey Mann

Received Date : 04/11/2024 04:34 AM

Comments Received :

FBAR reporting consumes a great deal of time to collect information that very likely will never be used or even looked at. This wastes taxpayer money to collect and manage something with almost no utility and taxpayer time and money too understand and collect it. Collecting this data "just in case" is frankly ridiculous. That does not happen for any other group or situation.