

Author Full Name : Anonymous

Received Date : 04/13/2024 04:49 AM

Comments Received :

It's absurd that regular US citizens living abroad must file with a department named the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network as if we were criminals. FBAR filing is a time-consuming annual reporting burden for us. Living in Sweden, we already are paying more in the way of tax every year here than we would if we were still in the US. We literally spend money each year to file US tax forms and we owe no taxes in the US. How does that make sense?