

Author Full Name : AnonymousReceived Date : 04/15/2024 10:52 AMComments Received :

The FBAR system is ridiculous. It doesn't even accept alpha numeric postal codes which exist across the globe (including close US allies like Canada, the UK and Ireland). Finally, the dollar amount is too low and the catch-all nature means it applies to pension accounts as well as checking and savings. Please reform this and target those who really need to be regulated not those of us with small pension pots who are living and working in countries closely allied to the US.