

Author Full Name : AnonymousReceived Date : 04/29/2024 06:22 PMComments Received :

Filing the FBAR each year is an administrative burden. It is not clear why I am filing and which accounts to include. As an example, one year I switched accounts at my bank and had to report on closed accounts. That required calling the bank to get the statements as they were no longer accessible online. Also seemed like over-reporting since I also included the new accounts which was essentially a duplication. Very annoying and time consuming.