

Author Full Name : Peter GossReceived Date : 06/07/2024 03:39 AMComments Received :

As an additional observation/question that just occurred to me, the reporting structure is:

Program-level data

Current student data

Withdrawn/completer data

I confess I'm perplexed about the necessity of the second category. While it was also a feature of the 2014 version of GE, unless I'm missing something it doesn't appear in the downstream FVT data which would seem to make it irrelevant.

Is there a reason that section could/should not just be axed, and instead only have the Program-level data and Withdraw/completer data?

It feels vestigial and extraneous/unnecessary to the actual function of current FVT/GE. What is ED's defense of the purpose/pertinence of that section of data?