

Author Full Name : Elizabeth VolpeReceived Date : 06/12/2024 04:33 PMComments Received :

I oppose the plan to eliminate the Academic Libraries Survey. I am a librarian who used survey data extensively while at university. The term "information science" says it all. Without data, how are librarians to know what needs are growing and shifting in this high-tech, fast-paced world? This information is critical in making decisions about services libraries provide. It also helps academic libraries across the nation compare notes on how well they are serving students.