

Author Full Name : Frederick NestaReceived Date : 06/14/2024 03:01 AMComments Received :

Having managed academic libraries in the United States and abroad, and having taught library and information science, I found the data about college and university libraries invaluable in benchmarking my own libraries, both in the US and abroad, against my peers and in using the data in teaching library management, collection development, and budgeting. Having worked in other countries where such data is difficult or non-existent, I really came to value it. Please continue to collect and disseminate it.