I am writing to ask that the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS) library survey continue for libraries. This survey provides essential data on academic libraries, including information on library resources, services, and usage. The discontinuation of this survey would have significant implications for our ability to conduct proper benchmarking, inform policy decisions, and demonstrate compliance with accreditation requirements. It is vital to have this data for academic libraries. Please continue this survey and providing this information. Libraries depend on data for funding, services, and supporting students success in higher education.
