

Author Full Name : Lisa ErricoReceived Date : 06/24/2024 10:12 AMComments Received :

It is of great importance that Academic Libraries continue to participate in IPEDS. Without such reporting, the critical work that libraries do may be not seen or valued by the greater institution. As academic libraries support and create digital initiatives, the work they do may seem invisible to others, but is paramount to helping students find and select verifiable sources for their work especially in a time of "fake news."