

Author Full Name : Catherine PendleyReceived Date : 06/24/2024 02:47 PMComments Received :

I disagree with eliminating the Academic Library Component in IPEDS. As a Library Director at a small undergraduate institution, I feel that the data that is gathered is instrumental in assessments and collection development. The academic library is a vital entity to every institution, whether its holdings are print, digital, or a hybrid of the two. We must fight to maintain relevance among stakeholders in our institutions, and remaining a component in the IPEDS survey is one step in that process.