

Author Full Name : Angela CamackReceived Date : 06/24/2024 03:46 PMComments Received :

Libraries are essential to all academic settings. Libraries provide access to research material (books, articles, reserves and curated websites.) Librarians help students find and use information and teach the research process. Libraries also provide remote access to books, articles and reference works. Librarians are responsible for the selection and maintenance of the entire library collection, not only books but ebooks, periodicals, databases, research guides and curated websites.