Jobs to Move America (JMA) is a strategic policy center that works to transform public spending and corporate behavior using a comprehensive approach that is rooted in racial and economic justice and community organizing. We are submitting comments on how the CPO within the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) can, through the collection and reporting of information, ensure that recipients of CHIPS funding are making progress toward creating quality jobs, investing in communities, and meeting environmental commitments in a way that limits risk to the project and ensures success.
