

All of Us Biostats Core Train-the-Trainer Registration

The Interdisciplinary Guided Network for Investigation, Translation, and Equity (IGNITE) is offering a training opportunity for biostatisticians to learn about the All of Us Researcher Workbench.

Researchers must know how to code in R, Python, or SAS to use the Researcher Workbench. Preference will be given to applicants who know at least one of these languages.

If you are not registered for the Researcher Workbench, you will need to register prior to attending the seminar. Learn more about the registration process here: <https://www.researchallofus.org/register/>

Please complete the brief application below to be considered for the virtual Biostats Core Train-the-Trainer on November 14-15, 2024.

Please find training agenda here: All of Us Biostats Core Agenda.pdf
