

Author Full Name : AnonymousReceived Date : 01/09/2025 02:43 AMComments Received :

I'm a chronic pain sufferer. The 5mg of hydrocodone I take thrice daily is barely enough to treat the pain I deal with every day, but I dare not ask for a higher dose because medication cuts creating shortages, pain management doctors fear being seen as drug dealers, and pain sufferers as drug seekers. We're being used as scapegoats to sweep a real illegal fentanyl problem under the rug. Please stop making people suffer so you can pat yourself on the back and claim you tried what you could.