

Author Full Name : Deborah FriendReceived Date : 01/09/2025 01:48 PMComments Received :

I have had scoliosis for most of my life. I have been disabled since 2013 because of this. The only reason I am still able to function and be a somewhat productive human being is that i am prescribed an option medication. Several years ago the amount I was prescribed was cut down which has caused me to be less productive because of the pain i have with every day tasks. Please reconsider the prescribing guidelines for chronic pain patients. We aren't the ones who abuse these drugs but they allow us to have a better quality of life with what time we have left.