These laws/ rules has not stopped street drugs/ addicts.

The only ones hurt by this is the chronic illness patients!

We have been treated like addicts now.

We have long medical history's that anyone can read and see why we need pain meds to get through another day.

I have been living with Crohns since the age of 13, I'm now 53, i have been through 30+ surgeries and all the different meds for crohns, none of it worked.

I suffer daily just to eat one meal! My pain meds were tapered and now i have pick what meal am i going to eat everyday!

People making these laws and " guidelines" are healthy people that have no idea what pain on a daily bases feels like!

How do we allow these people to set guidelines?

Until you are living in pain, you should never be allowed to set any " guidelines"!

Please stop the nonsense or figure out away to help pain patients with chronic illness ASAP!

We don't want to hear of anymore patients taking their lives or having to go to unsafe methods to receive help!

These laws are going to start filling up ER's and hospitals because we aren't able to get the correct pain meds or amount.

That was why i went to Pain Management to begin with.

Please stop making our quality of live miserable.
