No, I do not believe my doctors are following the updated 2022 guidelines. They are treating them as gospel and law. The update was meant to clarify treatment of pain patients but that is not what happened. Doctors are running scared and will not treat those that need treatment for chronic pain - they are afraid of the DEA raiding their offices and taking away their livelihood. We chronic pain patients need help! We need to be treated with dignity and respect and not like criminals.
