

27 CFR § 555.201 is being revised to read as follows:

(f) Any person who stores explosive materials covered by this part must notify the authority having jurisdiction for fire safety in the locality in which the explosive materials are being stored of the type, magazine capacity, and location of each site where such explosive materials are stored. The person must make this notification orally before the end of the day on which they begin storing the explosive materials, and in writing within 48 hours from when they begin storing them. Thereafter, the person must submit written notification once every 12 months following the initial notification, but no later than the end of the month during which the 12-month period is completed, unless the person is no longer storing explosive materials at the relevant site. When a person ceases to store explosive materials at a site, they must notify the authority having jurisdiction for fire safety in the locality in which the explosive materials were stored in writing within 48 hours after the person discontinues storing materials at that location. Each written notification must also contain the notification date and the name, title, and agency of the fire authority official notified. The person submitting the notification must retain a copy of each written notification for five years from the date of notification and must make it available for examination or inspection by an ATF officer, as requested, at all reasonable times.