The federal government's use of the term "biological truth" is completely, in every way, arbitrary and erroneous. The actual truth of human biology, history and social science is as follows:

- Biological sex is not binary, regardless of how it is determined, whether by chromosomes, hormone levels, secondary characteristics or any other metric
- Human gender exists and is determined exclusively on a social level, and is not, in any way, dictated by biological sex
- Concrete evidence of the existence of transgender and nonbinary humans can be found as far back as evidence of humans can be found

The actions of the US federal government on this matter do not adhere to science or reality in any way. There is no logical, scientific, moral, ethical or society justification for the unconstitutional crimes being committed against transgender Americans by the United States of America.
