I find that the federal government forcing its citizens to identify their physical sex on passports to be unnecessary, cruel, and most importantly, unconstitutional. One's physical sex never matters in situations that requires passports, so it's clear that this is being used as a method to target and attack America's own citizens for no real reason other than to be cruel. Ideally, one's passport needs no sex or gender marker, but allowing a citizen to freely change that marker can be a reasonable alternative.
